Extract Data From any Website Into Excel in Seconds With Premade Extraction Recipes

The screenshot shows the Data Miner Chrome extension interface. The main window displays a list of scraped data for Java developers. The data is organized into columns: Name, Title, Location, Clearance, Experience, Industry, and Bio Summary. The list includes five entries, each with a checkmark in the first column. The interface also shows a sidebar with navigation options like 'Generic Recipe - Get Emails', 'Sandbox - Search', and 'My Recipes'. At the bottom, there are buttons for 'New', 'Save Recipe', 'Reload Page', and 'More'. The status bar at the bottom indicates 'Accounts: 10', 'Clear', 'Download', and 'Collections'.
